PLANS OUTLINED FOR MIGHTY EFFORT

Rivers and Harbors Committee Pleased With Inspection.

CALL FOR WATERWAYS CONVENTION

The Conference to be National in Its Scope—Preliminary Session to Be Held at Cincinnati.

The suggestion of Congressman Joseph E. Randall of Louisiana, to hold a national waterways convention assumed, a formal shape at a conference held on board of the steamer Queen City yesterday afternoon between the officers of the Ohio Valley Improvement association and the members of the rivers and harbors committee, who have finished their trip of inspection down the Ohio river.

The conference was supplementary to that Tuesday at which the scheme for holding of the convention was outlined.

John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, was selected chairman of the meeting and James W. Wardrop, of Pittsburgh, manager of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association of that city was chosen secretary.

After a lengthy discussion the following resolution was adopted by unanimous vote of all present:

Resolved, That for the purpose of inducing the government to adopt a more liberal policy for the improvement of the waterways of the country, the Ohio Valley Improvement association be requested to invite within thirty days from the date thereof, one representative from every waterway improvement association in the country, and such other persons as it may deem proper, to a conference at Cincinnati for the purpose of devising and carrying out a plan for holding a national waterways convention during the early part of next session of congress. It was decided that the proposed convention be absolutely decentralized and deal in generalities in handling this question.

Those present at the conference were Congressman Davenport, of West Virginia; Bishop, of Michigan; Acheson, of Pennsylvania; Alexander, of New York; Davidson, of Wisconsin; McLachlin, of California; Lorimer, of Chicago; Jones, of Washington; Hede, of Minnesota; Ransdell, of Louisiana and Swager, of Louisville; Col. John L. Vance, of Columbus, O.; Captains James A. Henderson, W. H. Rogers, Mr. G. H. Anderson, and E. J. Lloyd, of Pittsburgh; Albert Dettlinger and Captain Robert W. Wise, of Cincinnati; Jas. H. Cassidy, of Cleveland; Mayor Geo. Parsons, of Cairo, and Hon. F. H. Posey, of Evansville.

The 969 miles from Pittsburgh to Cairo was covered in just one week. The trip could have been made in better time, but a slow schedule was provided to make a daylight run of as much of the river as possible. All the members of the congressional party left the boat at Cairo, some going to Chicago, where they will make an inspection of the Illinois river and the drainage canal.

President Vance in an interview at Cairo yesterday afternoon said:

"The trip has done a world of good and we are more than satisfied with the results. We are convinced that the members of the rivers and harbors committee favor the improvement of the river and only stand back because of the indifference of congress to appropriate the money necessary. It remains now for our association and the people of the Ohio Valley and of the entire United States to rise to this duty."

Albert Dettlinger, of Cincinnati, said: "The people of the Ohio Valley never made a better investment. The members of the river and harbors committee have now seen the river, its commerce and heard from the lips of experienced river men and the business men along its thousand miles of fertile way its saddest needs. The members of the committee are in favor of the improvement and I am sure would be willing to grant them, but they have congress to fight to overcome its reluctance to appropriate sufficient money to meet the needs in this direction. A good work has been started in this convention and we hope that it will bear good fruit when it comes to a head."

The officials of the Ohio Valley Improvement association are gratified over the results of the trip. They hold that it means much to the Ohio river and that the accomplishment of the project to hold a national waterways convention is in itself a sufficient recompense for the Ohio shall share handsomely in any increase which congress may be prevailed upon to make for rivers and harbors improvement.

At the banquet last night at Cairo the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by the congressmen and party:

The guests of the "On to Cairo" tour of the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo on board the steamer Queen City, on tour May 17, 1905.

Favored as perhaps no people have been favored during the history of the Ohio river, and deeply appreciating the honor, as well as the comfort, care and courtesy of the trip so graciously and so generously tendered by our hosts and so much enjoyed by all, hereby

Resolved, That we respectfully tender our sincere thanks and appreciation.

To Capt. J. Frank Ellison, of the steamer Queen City and his gallant and efficient crew who have so carefully planned for our pleasure, care and comfort, and has so successfully carried same into effect, thereby contributing in every way to our most pleasant voyage.

To the ladies of the Ohio Valley and the citizens generally of every city from Pittsburgh to Cairo, inclusive, for their many courtesies and most generous hospitality, and for the 1,000 mile ovation so spontaneously tendered to the party.

To the press of every city on the Ohio river from Pittsburgh to Cairo, inclusive, and to every other city which has given generous space and wide spread publicity to this tour of inspection and instruction. To the ladies of the party, who, by their presence and genial companionship have so largely contributed to the success and pleasure of the trip.

COMMITTEE.
No speeches were made by any of the Paducah delegation at the Cairo banquet last night, as all the time was given over to the members of the rivers and harbors committee. Paducahians speak highly of the hospitality of Cairo and her business men, and say the banquet was one of the swiftest possible to imagine.

MANY DEATHS

At Panama, According to a Man Just Returned.

Pittsburg, May 18.—John H. Caldwell, who went to Panama to work as boss carpenter on the canal has returned and says the temperature ranges from a hundred and twenty to a hundred and thirty during the day and there is a lot of yellow fever. The only means of keeping account of the deaths is to count the graves. The quarters for workmen are said to be bad.

A New Grain Elevator.

Paris, Tenn., May 18.—The Paris Milling company has begun on the foundation for an up-to-date elevator to be erected in connection with their warehouse. It will consist of two immense steel tanks 25 feet in diameter and 40 feet in height, and will hold 30,000 bushels of grain, which in connection with the present warehouse, will give a capacity of 70,000 bushels.

JUNCTION FORMED SEVERAL DAYS AGO

Big Russian Fleet Then Steamed Out of Sight.

Believed That the Conflict Cannot Now Be Long Delayed—Vladivostok Ready for Siege.

MANY STORIES FOR RUSSIANS

Suifu, May 18.—The junction of the fleets of Rojestvensky and Nebogatoff was effected off this port and outside of territorial waters, May 8. The combined fleet remained in the vicinity of the Point, where the junction was effected, until May 14, when they started seaward, sailing in an easterly direction.

Junks With Provisions.

London, May 18.—The correspondent of the Star at Hong Kong wires that a fleet of a hundred and fifty Chinese junks, fully laden with provisions for the Baltic fleet was sighted off Kwang Chauwan Tuesday, the junks evidently under the direct control of Russians. The junks showed no lights but when they saw they were observed, suddenly displayed signals.

Saw 42 Vessels.

Singapore, May 18.—The steamer Segovia arrived today and reports that she passed Monday 42 vessels of the Baltic fleet, forty miles from Cape Varella on the Annam coast. The vessels were steaming slowly toward the north.

No Plague in Manchuria.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Reports that the plague has broken out among soldiers in Manchuria are denied.

Vladivostok Ready for Long Siege.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—According to the latest advices from Vladivostok, the garrison there now numbers fifty thousand and is well prepared to stand a long siege if necessary. The place is well supplied with cattle and coal, and other necessities as well as ammunition. General Linevitch is reported to have said the fortress is prepared to stand a siege of a year.

Seized Its Own Vessel.

London, May 18.—The Central News says that the steamer Linchun, captured by the Japanese south of Korea Monday was Japanese property. This is the third of its own vessels the Japanese warships have seized while carrying produce to Japan.

Battle Is Drawing Near.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—With a suspicious stoppage of dispatches from Manchuria, and the strong possibility that Rojestvensky has cut his last communications with home and set forth on the final stage of his journey to his goal, either Togo or Vladivostok, keen interest is manifested in naval and military circles here in the two-fold fields of war.

Though the admiralty, which has been completely silent since the advent of Rojestvensky in the Chinese sea, publishes no dispatches the conviction is growing that the united squadrons departed from the Annam coast immediately after their junction and naval officials are anxiously expecting news of the first skirmishing between scouts of the hostile fleets.

The Associated Press correspondent, on his visit to naval officials to investigate the rumor that Rojest-

JOHN RAMAGE DIED OF AN OVERDOSE

Found Unconscious at Commercial Hotel Today.

Believed to Have Taken the Poison to Relieve Pain—Carried to City Hospital.

LIVED UNTIL ONE O'CLOCK.

Mr. John H. Ramage, a well known carpenter, aged 43, died this afternoon about 1 o'clock at the city hospital from an overdose of morphine, taken, it is alleged, accidentally in an effort to alleviate suffering.

The deceased has been working for Davis and Dunlap at Wickliffe, where they have several contracts under way, and came to the city Tuesday. He was boarding at the Commercial hotel, and last night was found by Dr. M. L. Rozzell, of Mayfield, who has been attending him and was a personal friend, unconscious and in a serious condition.

He immediately gave restoratives and siphoned the stomach of the unconscious man and at 9 o'clock this morning Mr. Ramage was taken to the city hospital.

He never regained consciousness, and did not live as long as the attending physicians thought he would.

Mr. Ramage is supposed to have taken the morphine to relieve pain, as he was afflicted with chronic bladder trouble. He purchased yesterday sometime, it was learned, some quarter-of-a-grain morphine tablets, and is supposed to have taken several of them, and got too much. It is not known how long before he took the poison it was, until he was found during the night.

The deceased came to Paducah from up about Marion, Crittenden county, Ky., four or five years ago, and had resided here ever since. He had the misfortune to lose his wife about February 27. It is said that he had brooded over her death ever since, and was despondent, and there are rumors the poison was taken with suicidal intent, but no proof of it.

The deceased was about 45 years old, and leaves a son, Vern Ramage, aged about 18, who is now in the city. The remains were taken to the Martin & Edinger undertaking establishment this afternoon, and Coroner Crow will hold an inquest tomorrow morning.

The body will be taken to Kelsey, Ky., near Princeton, at noon tomorrow, to be buried beside that of his wife.

Curt Loses a Thumb.

Frankfort, Ky., May 18.—Curtis Lett's thumb on the right hand was cut off by a machine while at work in the chair department of the prison yesterday.

venasky was broken down in health, was repeatedly and eagerly questioned for the latest information, through press dispatches, which it was declared, is a better source than the admiralty. Neither the admiralty nor individual officers have any information regarding the report expressed doubts of its accuracy.

Capt. Claude confirmed the statement of the Associated Press that the vessels of both squadrons are equipped with apparatus for cleaning their bottoms at sea.

On the military side indications are that events are rapidly shaping for the preliminary stage of another great battle. The Russian army has been refitted and is ready for action.

CAPT. JAS. M. EZELL DIES SUDDENLY

Veteran Merchant and Official Passed Away This Afternoon.

Had Been in Feeble Health for Several Months But Death Was Unexpected.

NO FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Capt. James M. Ezell, the veteran merchant and at the time of his death back tax collector, died this afternoon about 2 o'clock at his home on North Fifth street from a complication of diseases. His death was very unexpected, although he had been in failing health for several months.

Capt. Ezell was on the petit jury at the present term of court, and was able to go down into the city nearly every day, although sometime he returned too weak and exhausted to get off the street car without assistance.

This morning he was unable to leave home, and when his wife went to him about 10 o'clock, found him unconscious. Doctors were called, and it was stated at noon, gave no hope for recovery. They give it as their opinion that this is the end, and that Capt. Ezell could not live but a few hours longer.

He was born in Calloway county, and was about 63 years old. He married a sister of the late Colonel Tom Corbett, who survives him.

For many years he was in the clothing business, and several years ago was a member of the city council. He had also served as license inspector, and in some of the minor city offices.

Capt. Ezell was a Confederate veteran, and a most popular man. He was a genial, generous man with a host of friends, and hundreds will be pained to learn of his death.

He had a brother in Mayfield, who was this afternoon notified of his death.

No funeral arrangements have yet been made.

CASE FINISHED.

Fate of "Blue Beard" Hoch in the Hands of Jury.

Chicago, May 18.—With an appeal to the jury to inflict the severest penalty provided by law for murder, Assistant State's Attorney Healy last evening finished his closing argument in the trial of Johann Hoch, charged with the murder of Mrs. Marie Weleker-Hoch. Counsel for Hoch, Attorney Isadore B. Plotke made a strong plea to the Germans on the jury. He referred to Hoch as "this German here," and he kept Hoch's nationality before the jury in nearly every statement. Judge Kerstein's court room was crowded, many fashionably dressed women being spectators.

This Man Was Executed for Murder in Connecticut.
Hartford, Conn., May 18.—Gordon Marx, an aged murderer, suffered the penalty for his crime in the state prison just after midnight. His last words were a protest of his innocence. Marx was almost 74. He killed a farm hand and is believed to have murdered another.

PRESIDENT GOMPERS SAYS END IS NEAR

Believes the Strike Will be Settled in Short Time.

Meetings to Be Held Today—School Children Who "Struck" Arraigned in the Courts.

SENT TO A REFORM SCHOOL.

Chicago, May 18.—It is highly probable that the next twenty-four hours will see the end of the strike in Chicago. Although none of the laborer leaders will so acknowledge, it is generally understood that a program for calling off the strike has already been arranged.

Today a meeting will be held between the teamsters' joint committee and a committee representing the Team Owners' association. It will be made plain to the teamsters that the business interests of the owners render it imperative that the boycott be lifted. It will then be agreed by the team owners and teamsters in joint council that the demand of the team owners to make deliveries to boycotted houses with union drivers be submitted to arbitration.

This arbitration is to concern only the Team Owners' association and teamsters, members of the Employers' association being in no manner interested in it in an official sense. Pending the decision of the board of arbitration the strike is to be called off and such members of the Teamsters' union as are able to obtain their old situations will return to work. This will end the strike entirely with the exception of the strike against Montgomery, Ward & Co., and it is not expected that aggressive measures will be adopted by either side, trouble in this direction being allowed to die out gradually.

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, was very active in all efforts made towards settling the strike. He conferred with members of the Team Owners' association, held conferences with the teamsters and had an extended talk with Mayor Dunne. He expressed himself as confident that the strike would be adjusted within a short time. Little opposition was made by strikers to deliveries by non-union drivers. In fact the streets had almost assumed their normal condition and there was little to indicate that a strike of such large proportions was in progress.

The authorities have taken hold of the strike fever in the public schools with a firm hand and Judge Mack of the juvenile court, sentenced three boys to the house of correction and released one on probation.

President Gompers held a consultation today with a member of the state board of arbitration and labor leaders. A plan was discussed for a settlement of the strike and President Gompers said he would meet Clarence Darrow and Levy Mayer today, when he hoped some agreement will be reached to close the strike. Gompers leaves for Dayton, O., this evening.

PAIA, THE MORO CHIEF, HAS MET HIS FATE.

Manila, May 18.—News has been received that Paia, the outlaw Moro chief pursued for two weeks on the island of Jolo by troops under General Wood, has been killed.

His few surviving followers are now being trailed by troops. At the beginning of the uprising, Paia was reported to have a following of six hundred armed men, most of whom have been killed.

MANILA BANK

Manila, May 18.—The American bank in this city has been closed by order of Gen. Wright, and is now in charge of the insular authorities. The reason given is the protection of depositors. The capital of the bank is fifty thousand paid in, and a hundred thousand subscribed. The deposits are about a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

PERMANENT MISSION FUND ESTABLISHED BY EPISCOPAL PARISHANS.

Bishop Woodcock Pleased at the Progress His Church Has Made.

Steps have been taken by the council of the Episcopal diocese of Kentucky toward raising a permanent mission fund of $100,000 for use in this state. Almost the entire second day session in Louisville was devoted to the discussion of missions, the interest in this branch of church work having been greatly stimulated by Bishop Charles E. Woodcock. The endowment fund will be subscribed by individuals and parishes, giving a stated sum at intervals for ten years. The trustees of the fund will be named as the custodians of the mission fund, the body to be incorporated.

At the Bishop's suggestion that five laymen be elected to serve with him as the head of the church, the following were elected: George A. Robinson, Claude R. Barnes, D. A. Keller, C. H. Gibson, of Louisville; James E. Hankin, of Henderson.

Bishop Woodcock made the address.

Running Down Long?

You and Your Food are a Misfit Sure

It's a relief to feel the sunshine and glow of perfect health, bounding energy and "go" of the successful, brimful of spirits man. The joy of living real LIFE will come back when you give your body the kind of food it is mutely appealing for, that from which it can make good the daily waste caused by brain work and exertion.

Suppose you abandon for a time the food which evidently is not properly nourishing you, and go in for a 10 day test and see how near the fool expert, who perfected comes to your case. Drop tea and coffee absolutely and let your body get to the front by bounds. Cut your tobacco down to at least one-half.

Now for breakfast.

A little very ripe fruit, a saucer of Grape-Nuts (not over 4 heaping teaspoons) with some rich cream poured over it, insist on cream, milk will do as a last resort, but water spoils the delicate sweet flavor), a slice of very hard baked toast, thinly buttered, and a cup of Postum Food Coffee. No more.

That will carry you until lunch time, when the same articles can be used, and add a little hot clear soup.

Take dinner at 6 or 7 and have a generous portion of meat, only one kind. Cut out the soup and fish, have 2 vegetables and a Grape-Nuts pudding, a cup of Postum Food Coffee (which will not keep you awake) and one or two slices of buttered toast. QUIT THERE.

Two days thus will open your eyes and 10 days make this good old world seem a happy place again.

It's nice to be happy.

dress of the evening at the closing exercises of the council at Christ church cathedral. In reviewing the work accomplished by the body he expressed himself as greatly pleased by the steps taken toward increased activity in missions, and declared that although he might not live to see the day, the Episcopal church would ultimately be firmly established in the thirty-five counties of the state where it is now practically unknown.

The council will hold its next meeting at Grace Episcopal church in Paducah, May 16, 1906.

SANK AGAIN.

Belle of Calhoun Raised But Went Down in Deeper Water.

The Belle of Calhoun, which sank near Union Thursday night and was raised Sunday, sank again a short time after she had been floated. The boat drifted a short distance, and not having sufficient pump capacity or steam to keep her afloat, sank in deeper water than she was in before. She settled on an uneven bottom, and is said to be crosswise with the current. Her fore and aft chains have broken, and she is said to be in a bad shape and in imminent danger of becoming a total loss. Capt. Dana Scott, inspector for the Marine underwriters of Cincinnati which have insurance on the boat, has gone to her assistance with the steamer Kennedy and pumps, and will make an effort to raise the boat. The Belle of Calhoun was in Paducah about three weeks ago, towing corn between St. Louis and Nashville.

CURRING PLACED.

Company Says it Will Make a Good, Quick Job.

Supt. Whaley, of the Bridges Co., is pushing work of rebuilding Third street.

Yesterday over 600 feet of cement curbing was put in south of Adams street and the work will be continued as long as favorable weather lasts. This morning notice of the shipment of curbing was received and the curbing will probably be here in a few days. It has been shipped out of Bedford, Ind., and the truck will follow shortly. Supt. Whaley states that his company intends to make this an example of up-to-date and modern street improving.

MAN BE WELLS.

Man Caught at Owensboro Believed to Be Southland Murderer.

A telephone message from Owensboro to J. L. Threlkeld, of Southland, last night, stated that a man was under arrest there believed to be John Wells, the only one of the three escaped murderers still at large. The other two, Jim Cowan and Will Proctor, were captured at Caseyville, and Wells is said to have gone on to Owensboro. An officer from Southland, it is understood, has gone to Owensboro to identify Wells.

RIVER NEWS

The Ohio is still rising here, but there will be less water than expected, in all probability. The gauge today is 21.7 feet, a rise of 1.8. Today's reports show the river falling at Johnsonville, Pittsburg, Louisville and Cincinnati. The Tennessee, however, is rising rapidly.

The John S. Hopkins will arrive at 10 a. m. Saturday and remain until 11 p. m. to accommodate the carnival visitors. The Hopkins reports much trouble at Evansville getting labor, and had to leave all her freight on the last trip because no one could be secured to load it.

The Royal left at 2 p. m. today for Colorado.

The City of Savannah is still due today from St. Louis for Tennessee river.

The Queen City passed up last night for Cincinnati, after making the rivers and harbors trip.

The towboat Nellie Willett has the honor of being the first boat to ever land at Shepherdsville on Salt river, twenty-five miles from its mouth, says the Courier-Journal. She went up that stream on Monday and brought on two big barges of staves. More than a thousand people assembled upon the bank at the town to witness the arrival of the boat and she left until the cheers of all on shore. It was a big day in town and a big achievement for the boat. The officers of the boat are proud of their trip.

The Dick Fowler left at 8 a. m. today for Cairo with a good trip.

The John S. Hopkins was the Evansville packet today. It will not be long now until some of the smaller landings between here and Evansville are submerged, on account of the rise in the river.

The Clyde had a good trip for Tennessee river last night. The Kenucky is now due and will arrive tonight or tomorrow, and leave again Saturday.

The Petera Lee leaves Memphis tomorrow for Cincinnati and should arrive here Sunday.

The Georgia Lee, on account of the rising river and the fact that she has to be repaired at once, was taken from here to Miami City to go on the ways. She arrived here Monday.

The Louisiana arrived today from Vicksburg, Miss., for Evansville. She was inspected yesterday at Cairo, and it is understood to be run in the excursion business at Evansville.

MISSING PAPERS.

In the Loomis-Bowen Inquiry, Ordered Supplied.

Washington, May 18.—Development in the Loomis-Bowen inquiry yesterday were few but interesting. As stated officially to the president, they were about as follows:

First, Minister Bowen called upon Secretary Taft early in the day and told him that upon looking over the papers submitted to him by the secretary, as embodying the state department's correspondence on the subject of the rumors current in Caracas relative to Loomis, he had found at least two papers were lacking of which he was cognizant. First was a letter from President Castro to Loomis, then minister to Venezuela, introducing a negotiator in behalf of that country, concerning arrangements with an American syndicate. Second was assignment of a claim against Venezuela by Mr. Jauress to Loomis.

Taft and Loomis upon learning through Bowen that he had copies of the missing papers, agreed to waive all technicalities and receive Bowen's copies as sufficient for purposes of investigation. Bowen later in the afternoon submitted these copies to Taft who in turn supplied copies of them to the president.

DESPERATE BATTLE

Causes Drowning of Three On a Ship.

Tacoma, Wash., May 18.—A desperate battle has occurred on the decks of the steamer Centennial, in which several men were slightly injured and three are thought to have been drowned. The Centennial, from San Francisco via Seattle, brought from the latter port eighteen men to work the ship's cargo here, owing to existing trouble between the Sailors' Union and the Longshoremen's Union. Capt. Pierce had been threatened with a boycott by the sailors if he employed Tacoma longshoremen, and hence had hired a crew at Seattle.

When the steamer arrived in port about 200 longshoremen boarded her with clubs, bills, pistols and other weapons. The Seattle men were beaten wherever found and some thirty shots were fired before order was restored.

The governor's train will consist of eight cars, four sleepers, baggage car, a diner and two coaches. The guards' train will consist of 13 cars and both trains will return on the 27th.

VESSEL FLOATED.

Has Not Been Damaged and Will Resume Voyage.

New York, May 18.—The Cunard liner Crona, which ran aground Tuesday afternoon while bound for Liverpool, was floated this morning. The vessel is apparently uninjured, and will probably resume her voyage, although delayed.

Formerly Lived Here.

Mr. L. H. Hicks left yesterday for Hopkinsville where he has been assigned by the Imperial Tobacco Co. for the next three months. He will assist in prizeing their purchases at Hopkinsville. The steamer can heartily commend Mr. Hicks to the good people of Hopkinsville. Henderson Steamer.

In the L. C.'s War on Interurban Line.

Columbus, O., May 15.—Concerted action against the interurban lines is planned by the steam railroads entering Columbus. Up to the present time the Hocking Valley has been the only road that has aggressively fought the electric lines, but today it became known that the Norfolk and Western and Big Four are planning to meet the competition of the interurbans in their territory and that the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania had the matter under advisement.

The Seneca Valley Traction Company has been giving the Hocking Valley a fight for business between Columbus and Lancaster.

Capt. W. H. Fisher has reduced rates between Columbus and Lancaster on the Hocking Valley until they are now exactly the same as the fares on the interurban.

The Big Four is planning to fight the Columbus, London and Springfield between Columbus and London.

The Baltimore and Ohio some time ago requested the Paducah to join with it in a war against the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville, but the latter refused to enter into the fight at present.

Even the man who never fails to keep his appointments is apt to fall down when it comes to answering friendship letters.

Don't forget that Dr. A. List has moved to his new store, 412 Broadway.

THROUGH WITH NAN.

Attorney Levy Condemns Her Signing a New Theatrical Contract.

Mr. Levy said he understood that Miss Patterson intended to accept an offer from a theatrical manager and he strongly disapproved of such action.

TIPS.

It's not mere whim or caprice—it's simply human nature to be always wanting something! And it's a sign of good mental health—just as a vigorous appetite is a sign of good physical health. Of course appetite would be an embarrassment if we could obtain no food; and that "want something feeling" would be a calamity if we could never satisfy it. But you may have noticed that Want Advertisers are not only "always wanting something," they are "always getting something."

WHIPPING FOR MEAN NEGROES.

Mob at Rives, Tenn., Beats Two Insolent Wretches.

Rives, Tenn., May 18.—Yesterday afternoon a mob gave two negroes a whipping for insulting Miss Sallie Armstrong a highly respected young lady. One of the negroes was arrested at Kenton and the other in a wheat field near here and brought to town. After consulting lawyers, and it developing that the negroes could not be sent to the penitentiary for their offense, they were given their freedom. The community was intensely aroused over the affair and there was much talk of lynching the offenders, but wise heads counseled a different course. After the prisoners were liberated a mob pursued and overtook them and gave them a beating that they will not soon forget.

Miss Armstrong lives one mile north of town on the Illinois Central railroad. While on her way to Rives she met these negroes, one of whom made an indecent proposal to her. She turned away from them, thoroughly frightened, and started to run for her home. One of her assailants tried to catch her, but she eluded him and made her escape.

TELEPHONE DEAL

REPORTED THE PEOPLE'S COMPANY MAY BE SOLD.

Several Have Been Here to Inspect It—Evansville Man Now Negotiating For It.

From present indications the People's Independent Co., of the city, will be sold to capitalists who intend to increase the service.

Mr. T. H. Monteth, of Evansville, who was here several months ago to inspect the plant for the Home Co. of Louisville, is in the city negotiating for the purchase of the system. No deal has yet been closed but may be within the next few weeks.

It seems that several companies have had inspections made here and are after the plant, with a view of buying it, as Mr. Palk, an electrical expert from the Kanawha City Home Co., office, was recently sent here to look into the possibilities.

Mr. Monteth, however, represents capitalists who are generally interested in the telephone business and if the deal is made it will be made with capitalists who represent no particular company. No terms are given out but it is said the delay in closing the deal is occasioned by the failure of the local company management to come to some agreement relative to a purchase price.

THE MAGNETIC NORTH POLE HAS BEEN LOCATED

San Francisco, Cal., May 18.—News comes from the Arctic that the expedition under Capt. Roald Amundsen, which sailed from Christiana, Norway, June 17, 1903, has made highly important discoveries. Amundsen, who set out in a small craft with a crew of but eight men, has found the north magnetic pole, whose discovery is originally credited to Ross, in 1831, although many scientists doubt that Ross really located the elusive guide to the compasses of the world.

The north magnetic pole has been generally assumed by geographers as being on Boothia, the most northerly peninsula of the American continent, and close to King William's Land. It is supposed to be a shifting sphere of influence, though its variations are not great. It is not to be confused with the terrestrial north pole, the goal of explorers, which is situated some 1200 miles to the true north of the magnetic pole.

Amundsen is said to have made scientific observations of the highest value. In addition to this discovery the expedition has gone from Greenland to a point south of King William's land and seems sure of completing a northwest passage, which navigators have been unsuccessfully trying to do for 100 years. Amundsen, incident to these achievements, has found the monument erected by Sir John Franklin when the great explorer and 138 of his men were perishing in the ice. If the enterprising Norwegian completes a north western passage, as now seems altogether certain, he will come down through Behring Strait to San Francisco, to receive the plaudits of the world.

Capt. Amundsen sailed from Christiana, Norway, on his quest for the northwest passage and the magnetic pole on June 17, 1903, on the Gjøa, a little sloop of forty-six tons. The party that sailed on the daring quest besides the captain, were Lieut. Godfred Hansen, of the Royal Danish navy, and six swamen. The boat was but a stoutly built walrus sloop, such as the Norwegians use in their hunts for ivory and blubber. Amundsen placed in the little ship a petroleum engine which, under favorable conditions, would propel the ship four knots an hour, but his main reliance was upon the sailing ability and seaworthiness of his craft.

BY SATURDAY

The New Block Signals Will Be Working.

The block signal system on the Fifth and Paducah district of the I. C. will be completed and working Saturday.

The work began about three months ago and has required somewhat more time than anticipated. Blocks were put in at all stations according to regulations and the crew doing the wiring and preliminary work disbanded here a few days ago, leaving only finishing touches to be put to the system.

Electricians have been working all the week putting the block in order and say they will have everything in working order by Saturday. This will give a complete block system from Memphis to Louisville.

THE STAGE

HAS LOST MANY GOOD PEOPLE DURING THE PAST SEASON.

Kirk La Shelle's Place Will Be Filled in FHL—Once in Paducah.

The death of Kirk La Shelle calls attention to the unusual number of theatrical people who have passed into the beyond during the past season. Mr. La Shelle's work as manager was of the highest class, and several of his plays have been seen in Paducah, the last being "Arizona" and "Princess Chloé."

Mr. La Shelle was in Paducah himself several times in past years as manager of Frank Daniels, who used to come to Morton's opera house before he became a big city star.

The death of Kirk La Shelle marks the passing of one of the most successful and most prominent of the playwright-managers of recent years in this country.

Mr. La Shelle made a trio of newspaper men who earned fame and fortune in the theatrical world, Geo. Ade and Augustus Thomas being the other two who survive him. Like George Ade, Mr. La Shelle's career as a journalist was in Chicago. He was the warm personal friend of Augustus Thomas, who was once a reporter in St. Louis. Two of the greatest of Mr. La Shelle's stage successes, "Arizona" and "The Earl of Pawnee," were from the pen of Mr. Thomas.

Kirk La Shelle gave the stage some notable productions. One of his most elaborate was the musical comedy, "The Princess Chloé," in which he first started Marguerite Sylva and afterward Christine Hudson. Among the greatest of this season's successes were those bearing his trademark, if not actually from his pen. Some of these are "The Earl of Pawnee," in which Lawrence D'Orsay is still starring; "The Virginian," "The Bonnie Brier Bush," in which the veteran actor, J. H. Stoddard was recently compelled to close on account of failing health; "Checkers," with Tommy Ross in the leading role; "The Education of Mr. Pipp," in which Digby Bell is winning new laurels, and the recent great success in New York, "The Heir to the Throne," in which Guy Bates Post is starring. In former years he managed the Hustonians and also Frank Daniels.

Among the notables in the profession who have died recently are Mrs. Gilbert, who was the first, then Maurice Barrymore, A. M. Palmer and Madame Tanscheck. The American people bowed in sorrow at the passing of the loved Joseph Jefferson. Fred Hamlin died some months ago, Jessie Bartlett Davis only a few days since, and now within less than a week of each other, Sam S. Shober and Kirk La Shelle, who were two of the most successful of America's theatrical managers, answer the last and inevitable call.

TO SEEK NORTH POLE.

The Offer For Nansen's Ship Refused—Expedition Leaves Soon.

London, May 18.—The duke of Orleans is busily engaged now in completing arrangements for an expedition to the polar regions. He visited London making inquiries for a suitable vessel and offered to purchase the Fram, Nansen's famous ship, but the offer was declined by the Norwegian government, who regard it as a national monument. Another ship has been commented to the duke, however, and negotiations for its transfer have been initiated. A well-known firm of London gun-makers has been overhauling the outfit for the new polar ship for the last few years, and this task is now nearly completed.

The duke's ambition is to beat the record of 86.33 degrees north latitude, which was reached by members of the expedition headed by the duke of Abruzzi, who is a near relative of the duke of Orleans. It was in the Stella Polar in 1900 that the duke of Abruzzi penetrated further north—ninety miles beyond the pole reached by the Nansen expedition.

"The extensive and elaborate preparation that he is making show that the duke of Orleans intends to spare neither time nor money in his efforts to make a new polar record," said an intimate acquaintance of the duke.

"It is probable that an early start will be made, and, in any case, the voyage will extend over two or three winters. The expedition is mainly scientific, but unquestionably one of the duke's aims is to get a little nearer to the pole than any one else."

"Out in the hall and next is the place for funny experiences," according to Thomas Whiffen, of the "Sultan of Sulu" company. During the past season, through the experiences of bad railroad connection, we were compelled to 'lay over' in a little burg that is struggling hard to keep its name on the map. The place resembling in the name of hotel is one of the dearest sharks for the housing of man that I ever encountered. Waitresses of the 'Ho Wiggins' style of 'The College Widow' serve you and they are wonderful composites of makeup and manners—huge pomadours and a style of dress several years behind the prevailing mode. One of the kind ambled up to me at dinner and stopped chewing gum long enough to say:

"'Whatcher goin' to have?' Ham an' beef stew or Jegggs?"

"After I gave my order and she had served me, she leaped against the sideboard and regarded me with a glance of mingled scorn and pity. I daresay I raised my courage and asked for a napkin."

"She replied, 'A napkin? Aw, quit yer kiddin'."

"I finally struggled through the rap, when she came over, and with renewed chewing of the gum and with supercilious look said:

"'Ple?'"

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY.

Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY C. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

The men were filled with apprehension, not only for their lives, but for the treasure they had captured, for they stood about a hundred paces from the vessel almost over on her beam ends, for Morgan would not lift until the last moment, since each time that he did so and lost way temporarily he found himself driven bodily nearer the land. The men would have mutilated had it not been patent to the most simple mind that their only salvation lay in Morgan. Never had that villain appeared to better advantage than when he stood on the weather quarter overlooking the ship, his long gray hair blown out in the wind, fighting against a foe whose strength was too for him to be measured by the mind of man for his life and his ship.

Hornigold and Touch, grasping the wheel, assisted by two of the ablest seamen, were steering the ship with exquisite precision. Sweat poured from their brows at the violence of the labor required to control the massive helm. The men lay to windward on the deck or grouped in clusters around the masts or hung to the life lines which had been passed in every direction. At Morgan's side stood Velasco and Havemann, prime seamen both.

"What think ye, gentlemen?" asked Morgan, at last pointing to the point looming fearfully close ahead of them. "Can we weather it?"

"Never!" answered De Lussan, shaking his head. "Well, it has been a short cruise and a merry one, pity to lose our freightage and lives."

"And you, Velasco?"

"No," said the German, "it can't be done. Why did we ever come to this cursed coast?"

"Avast there!" cried Morgan, thinking quickly. "Gentlemen, we'll club-bunt the ship."

"The water's too deep, my captain, to give holding ground to the anchor," urged Havemann, struggling his stout durs.

"It shoals yonder, I think," answered Morgan. "We'll hold on until the last minute and then try."

"This wasted labor," growled Velasco.

"And certain death to hold on," added the Frenchman.

"Have you anything else to propose, sir?" asked Morgan sharply. "We can't risk ship against this wind and sea. There's no room to wear. What's to do?"

The men made no answer.

"Forward there!" cried the old buccaneer. And it was astonishing the force and power with which he made himself heard in spite of the roar of the wind and the smash of the sea. "Get the lee anchor off the bows there! L'Oulou!"

"Aye, aye!"

"Run a hawser from the anchor to aft here on the quarter. We'll club-bunt the ship. See the cable clear for running."

"Very good, sir!" cried the Frenchman, summoning the hardest hands and the most skillful to carry out his commander's orders.

"Ready! Is, sir," answered Hornigold, tightening his grasp on the spades and nodding his head to his superior.

"To the braces, lads! Obey orders sharply! For our last chance."

The water was roaring and smashing against the shore not a cable's length away. Usually in those latitudes it deepened tremendously a short distance from the low water mark, and there was a grave question whether or not the anchor, with the scope they could give it, would reach bottom. At any rate, it must be tried, and tried now. Morgan had held on as long as he dared. Another minute and they would strike.

"Down helm!" he shouted. "Flaw the head sheets! Round in on the fore braces there! Show that canvas aft!"

The lurch on the cross-jack yard had been furling, and Morgan, to force her head around, directed the after guard to spring into the midship rigging with a bit of tarpaulin and by exposing it and their bodies to the wind to act as a sail in assisting her to head away from the shore.

"Helm a-lee! Hard a-lee!" cried Hornigold, who, with his men, was grasping the spokes like a giant.

Slowly the old galleon swung up into the wind, the waves beating upon her bows with a noise like crashes of thunder. A moment she hung. She could go no farther.

"She's in irons! Swing that yard!" cried Morgan. "Cut and veer away forward!"

There was a splash as the anchor dropped overboard.

"Hands on that hawser!" he shouted. "Everybody walk away with it!"

The whole crew apparently piled on to the anchor hawser in the hope of pulling the ship's stern around so that the wind would take her on the other bow. She was still hanging in the wind and driving straight on shore.

"Haul away!" cried Morgan, but the hawser came in board through their hands with a readiness and ease that showed the anchor had not taken the ground. The strain of the cable to the anchor, however, and the still insistent impetus of the first swing turned the galleon's stern slightly to windward. Her head began slowly to fall off.

"She stays! She makes it!" cried the captain. "Meet her with the helm! Let go and haul! Cut away the hawser!"

It had been a tremendous feat of seamanship and bode fair to be successful. It was yet touch and go, however, and the breakers were perilously near. They were writhing around her fore-foot now, yet the wind was at last coming in over the other bow.

"We're safe!" cried Morgan. "Platten in forward! Haul aft the sheets and braces!"

At that instant there was a terrific crash above the roar of the tempest. The fore topmast of the Almirante Henckle carried sharply off at the hounds. Believed of the pressure, she shot up into the wind once more and drove straight into the scudding seas.

The men were as quick to see the danger as was Morgan. They came rushing aft, bearing their weapons, pouring curses and imprecations upon him. He stood with folded arms, a scornful smile on his old face, looking upon them. Carl watching and ready by his side. In another second, with a concussion which threw them all to the deck, the doomed ship struck heavily upon the sands.

CHAPTER IX.

CAPTAIN DOMINIQUE ALVARADO stood alone on the plaza of the ancient castle which for over a century had been the home of the governors of La Guayra.

He was gazing listlessly down over the parapet which bordered the bare sheer precipice towering above the seaport town. There was nothing in his eyes, but a great deal in his heavy heart.

Captain Alvarado, who filled the honorable station of commander of the port, was a soldier of proved courage. The protegee and favorite officer of his serene highness the Count Alvaro de Lara, grandee of Spain and viceroy of Venezuela, he had been honored with

With assumed station, simple means, increasing reputation, with youth, health and personal good looks, the young governor should have been a happy man. But it was easy to see from the heavy frown upon his sunny face that he was that rare thing in Spain, a blue-eyed blond, who at first sight might have been mistaken for an Englishman that his soul was filled with melancholy. And what might be, for Alvarado was the victim of a hopeless passion for Mercedes de Lara, the viceroy's daughter, known from one end of the Caribbean to the other from her beauty and her father's station as the Pearl of Caracas.

Not was his present sadness due to unrequited passion, for he was well aware that the admiration of his heart was not with an adequate response from his object. Indeed, it was no secret to him that Mercedes loved him with a devotion which matched his own. It was not that, but her father had announced his intention to betroth the girl to Don Felipe de Tobar y Bolandilla, a young gentleman of ancient lineage and vast wealth, who had been born in America and was the reputed heir of the famous family whose name he bore.

The consent of Donna Mercedes to the betrothal had not been asked. That was a detail which was not considered necessary by parents in the year of grace 1685, and especially by Spanish parents. That she should object to the engagement or refuse to carry out her father's plan never crossed the viceroy's imagination.

That she might love another was an idea to which he never gave a thought. It was the business of a well brought up Spanish maiden to be a passive instrument in the carrying out of her father's views, especially in things matrimonial, in which, indeed, she found little room for entrance. But Donna Mercedes loved Captain Alvarado, and she cared nothing for Don Felipe. Not that Don Felipe was disagreeable to her or to any one; he was a Spanish gentleman in every sense of the word—handsome, distinguished, proud and gallant—but she did not, could not, love him. To complicate matters still further Don Felipe was Captain Alvarado's cherished companion and most intimate friend.

The progress of the love affair between Alvarado and Donna Mercedes had been subjective rather than objective. They had enjoyed some mutual opportunities for meeting on account of the station the former filled in the viceroy's household and the place he held in his heart, yet the opportunities for extended freedom of intercourse between young men and women of the gentler class in those days, and especially among Spaniards of high rank, were extremely limited. The old count took care to see that his daughter was carefully watched and shielded, not because he suspected her of anything, for he did not, but because it was a habit of his people and his ancestry. The busy life that he led, the many employments which were thrust upon him, his military duties, had kept the days of the young soldier very full, and under the most favorable circumstances he would have had little time for loitering.

great responsibilities, which he had discharged to the satisfaction of his master. From a military point of view the office of governor of La Guayra, which he then filled, was of sufficient importance to entitle him to high position and much consideration in the viceregal court of Caracas.

Of unknown parentage, Alvarado had been reared in the family of the viceroy when an infant. He had been carefully reared, almost as he had been De Lara's son, and had been given abundant opportunity to distinguish himself. In the course of his short life he had managed to amass a modest fortune by honorable means. He was young and handsome. He had been instructed, for the viceroy had early shown partiality for him. In the best schools in the new world, his education had been ripe and polished by a sojourn of several years in Europe, not only at the court of Madrid, but also at that of Versailles, where the Count de Lara had been sent as ambassador to the grand monarch during a period in which, for the sake of supervising the education of his only daughter, he had temporarily absented himself from his beloved Venezuela. That an unknown man should have been given such opportunities, should have been treated with so much consideration, was sufficient commentary on the unexpressed kindness of heart of the old Hidalgo who represented the falling power of his most illustrious majesty of Spain, Carlos II., the bewitched, in the new world. Whatever his origin, therefore, he had been brought up as a Spanish soldier and gentleman, and the old count was openly proud of him.

With assumed station, simple means, increasing reputation, with youth, health and personal good looks, the young governor should have been a happy man. But it was easy to see from the heavy frown upon his sunny face that he was that rare thing in Spain, a blue-eyed blond, who at first sight might have been mistaken for an Englishman that his soul was filled with melancholy. ## SHILOH PARK

MEMBERS OF COMMISSION PASSED ON CITY OF SAVANNAH.

Are to Locate the Position of Missouri Troops During the Battle.

Major D. W. Reed, of Chicago, secretary of the Shiloh national park commission; T. W. Holman, of Rutledge, Mo., secretary of the Shiloh Battlefield Association; Sergt. J. H. Cunningham, of Fabius, Mo., and William O'Connor, of Carrollton, Ill., members of the association, were passengers on the steamer City of Savannah, which passed up today for Shiloh national park, where Major Reed's duties keep him about half the time.

The national park, he said, is almost complete, so far as the work of the commission is concerned. About 100 monuments have been erected in the park. Twenty-six miles of road have been constructed.

Messrs. Holman and Cunningham are going to locate, as nearly as possible, the positions occupied by the Missouri troops in the field, with the view of having a monument erected. Three legislatures have refused to appropriate money to erect a Missouri monument.

Major J. H. Ashcraft, of Paducah, who is a member of the commission, cannot attend the meeting on account of illness.

But the balloon gradually lost its lifting power from gas evaporation and soon settled to the ground some distance from the park. Morton struck in the branches of a tree and rolled to the ground in the rear yard of a residence. He was not injured in the descent. He was still unconscious from his first injury, however, and was immediately taken to the receiving hospital where he revived. His injuries were found to consist of only a lengthy scalp wound and some minor bruises.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 18. William Morton, an accountant, has been severely injured and has had a narrow escape from death at Chute's Park by being dashed against a telegraph pole as his balloon arose from the ground. Morton was rendered unconscious, but being strapped to the bar of the parachute, he did not fall. The balloon arose rapidly, carrying the unconscious man dangling from the bar. The large crowd of spectators at the park, who witnessed the ascension, were horrified and expected every moment to see the man drop to the ground. ## KENTUCKY NEWS TOLD IN PARAGRAPHS

Big Haul by Burglars.

Madisonville, Ky., May 18.—A big haul was made by burglars at Earlington. The residence of Thomas Longstaff was broken into and between $500 and $600 stolen. The money, of which $405 was in gold, and the balance in bills, belonged to James Longstaff, a son. It was in a little iron bank in his room and the guilty parties must have known that the money was in the house.

The burglars left a small rag which no doubt had contained a drug which they used on Mrs. Longstaff while in the house. Upon awakening next morning Mrs. Longstaff was called violently ill. A physician was called and pronounced her illness caused by being drugged.

Strenuous Efforts For Warner.

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—As a last effort to save George B. Warner from the gallows, a lunacy inquest will be held on him this afternoon. If the jury decides that he is sane, he will be hanged Friday morning for the murder of Pulaski Leeds, the Louisville & Nashville superintendent of machinery.

Warner's wife and his three children, James, aged 19; Milton, aged 16, and Ada, aged 12, arrived from their home in Logansport, Ind. They visited Warner at the jail, and a heartrending scene followed. Warner broke down and wept, and his wife and children tried to comfort him by telling him that while there is life there is hope. Mrs. Warner will testify at the lunacy inquest, and if her husband goes to the gallows she will leave with the children tonight, that they may not be in Louisville when he is executed.

The labor organizations of Louisville are still working as hard as they can to save Warner from death. Mrs. Warner and her three children went yesterday to the residence of Mrs. George Conway, daughter of Pulaski Leeds, to ask Mrs. Leeds, to intercede with the governor to save Warner from death on the gallows Friday for Leeds' murder. Both Mrs. Conway and Mrs. Leeds refused to see her, and have said they will not interfere.

Plow Combine.

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—The Courier-Journal says:

"Plans for the combination of the Oliver Chilled Plow company of South Bend, Ind., the Moline Plow company of Moline, and B. F. Avery & Sons, of Louisville, have been on foot for several weeks, and should they be successful the combined capital will furnish sufficient means to secure control of the remaining plow companies in the United States of which there are now about eighteen.

"With the successful culmination of the project a company with a capital stock amounting to nearly $6,000,000 will be formed and the general offices of the company probably will be located in Louisville."

Miss Deas Hall, Miss Heister Brittain's pretty guest, returned to her home in Paducah this morning. While here Miss Hall was the honoree of a number of social functions and made many friends.—Fulton Leader.

UNKNOWN SUICIDE.

Wentley Young Man From Osceola or Hylthville Kills Himself.

Lonoke, Ark., May 18.—An unknown young man committed suicide here last night by shooting himself through the head with a 32 Smith & Wesson pistol. Nothing was left to show who he was or where he was from, but one note was found that read:

"My Dear Sister Eva: You will forgive me for what I have done. Kiss baby for me."

This young man was about 24 years of age, and had been to the opening of Mount Mena.

One note read thus: "I am in love with that girl at home, which you well know, and tell her that I am dead all for the love of her."

One letter found showed that he was a wealthy and prosperous young man, and a dealer from somewhere between Osceola and Caruthersville, Mo. It was signed "H. Blize," but particular pains were taken to conceal his home. A little penny picture was found in his vest pocket, with the words "Mamie T., you are dearer than life to me," written on it.

WHISKEY AND JEALOUSY.

Cause a Double Murder in Hot Springs.

Hot Springs, Ark., May 18.—The twin demons, whiskey and jealousy, were responsible for a double murder and probable fatal wounding of a third person in this city at a late hour last night. Henry Smith shot and killed his wife and 13 year old daughter, and wounded William Lou, a music teacher, as the trio were returning home with a party of picknickers from a day's outing on the Ouachita river. They were in the act of alighting from a wagonette which contained a dozen or more people when Smith appeared and opened fire. He afterwards traded the revolver for a quart of whiskey, entered a carriage and was driven to the home of Sheriff Williams, where he gave himself up, saying he thought he had just killed a few people up the street. He was placed in jail and today was bound over to await the action of the grand jury on a double charge of murder in the first degree. All parties are colored, belonging to the negro 400 of this city.

TO ORGANIZE

NORTH AMERICAN BAPTISTS ELECT OFFICERS AT ST. LOUIS.

Individual Instead of Collective Obedience to God is Advanced by This Body.

St. Louis, May 18.—The organization of a permanent body to be known as the general convention of Baptists of North America was perfected by the election of the following officers: President, E. W. Stephens, Columbus, Mo.; First Vice-President, E. M. Dresser, of Ohio; Second Vice-President, Joshua Levering, Maryland; Third Vice-President T. E. Trotter, of Nova Scotia; Secretary, J. S. Prestridge, of Kentucky; Assistant Secretary W. H. Gehlweil, of Illinois; Treasurer, H. Kirk Porter, of Pennsylvania.

After the business incident to the organization of the general convention had been concluded, Rev. Call Barnes, of Massachusetts, in an address on "The Unity of the Baptist Mission," made what is regarded by his fellow Baptists as a radical utterance on the question of infant baptism which is opposed by the Baptist teaching.

"We have insisted," said Dr. Barnes, "on individual instead of collective obedience to God, so have had to insist on baptism by personal instead of baptism by proxy. But at the mouth of the whole battery of the world's scholarship and at the point of the bayonet of common sense, the forces of infant baptism have been turned until there is nothing left for them but an act of infant dedication, and the sooner we turn too and publicly dedicate our children the sooner we shall have taken away the last prop of pedro-baptism."

Dr. Cushing Stricken.

St. Louis, May 18.—Just as the Baptist convention was about to adjourn, Rev. Dr. Cushing, president of the Baptist University, Rangoon, India, was stricken while occupying a seat on the rostrum and fell, apparently dying, to the floor. While waiting for the arrival of an ambulance, a prayer was offered for Dr. Cushing, the delegates standing with bowed head while the supplication was being voiced.

Before the arrival of medical assistance, however, Dr. Cushing died. He had been carried from the speakers' stage to the vestibule of the Third Baptist church, where the convention is being held and cushions from the pews had hastily been procured to make a temporary resting place. Dr. Cushing did not regain consciousness.

ALL IS LOVELY

About San Domingo, According to Report Made to President.

Washington, May 18.—Dr. Jacob H. Hollander of Baltimore, who was sent to Santo Domingo by President Roosevelt as a special commissioner to make an investigation of the fiscal affairs of that government, had an extended interview with President Roosevelt. He told the president he had found perfect acquiescence on the part of both the officials of the present government and of the people of Santo Domingo in the arrangement which had been entered into between the two governments. The revolution so called, and not, in his opinion, amounted to much, and just now there was not even a suggestion of internal trouble. So far as his observations went Dr. Hollander could see no reason why the present status should not continue uninterruptedly until a new and more definite arrangement could be effected. He is to return to Santo Domingo in September to complete his inquiries.

Big Carnival Parade Tonight Will Contain Immense Brass Band.

Tonight is to be "Music Night" for the carnival and the biggest band ever seen in Paducah will lead the parade from Second and Broadway out to the carnival grounds.

There will be Deun's band, the carnival band, the Murphysboro band, Unrierville band, and J. C. hobo band, and all will consolidate in the big parade and make one big band.

This was done last carnival but the number of bands was not so large. This time the consolidated band will consist of nearly a hundred musicians and will be well worth the time to come down and hear.

The free attractions at the carnival last night were greatly enjoyed and the crowd was even larger than the two nights before. The carnival is passing off very quietly.

The parade tonight starts at 7 p. m., and the entire line of march will be lighted by red fire.

The line of march for the big band has been changed in order to give residents in another section of the city an opportunity to see something of the parade. Heretofore the band has marched straight out to Seventh and down to Clay, but tonight will start at First and Broadway and go to Fifth street and then north on Fifth to Clay and out Clay to Tenth. From Tenth the band will go to Trimble and then to the grounds.

The total paid attendance last night was about 5,800.

The numbers for last night's prize at the country store, a boy's suit of clothes, are 1,520, which is good if presented within 24 hours; 1,141, second number, good for following 24 hours; 1,430 good for following 24 hours. If none of this is presented by 12:30 o'clock Saturday night, the prize will be given away.
